Summary

A highly motivated FRONTEND development trainee with a solid foundation in coding. With a strong understanding of HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Python, and SQL, I have successfully built websites. My expertise in frontend development allows me to create visually appealing and interactive user interfaces.

Throughout my traineeship, I have gained practical experience in building dynamic websites.

As a team player, I am committed to delivering high-quality work within tight deadlines and delivering solutions that exceed expectations. My ability to adapt quickly to new technologies and challenges allows me to excel in a dynamic development environment.

I am confident that my skills and experience make me a valuable asset to any development team. I am eager to contribute my expertise to further grow my career in the FRONTEND development field.
